Program Notes (About the Composer)

American Legion March was published in 1920, and appears to be the single published work of composer Charles Wesley Parker. Parker was born in 1877 or 1878 in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He attended the Bush Conservatory of Music, and studied for a time under Alfred F. Weldon in Chicago, a noted cornetist, composer, and brass instructor. Parker was associated with Baylor University in Waco, Texas for much of his career. He directed the Baylor Cadet Band and Baylor Military Band from at least 1902 through 1913, possibly longer. At Baylor, he also taught mandolin and guitar. After his teaching career at Baylor, he reportedly became a musical instrument salesperson. Charles Parker died in 1946 in Houston, Texas.

Rehearsal Suggestions

This arrangement of American Legion March is an excellent introduction to march style and form for young musicians. While rehearsal numbers have been added, it's important to learn about march form: first strain (m. 5,) second strain (m. 22,) trio (m. 39.) The trio recapitulates (m. 71) in different orchestration and presentation. As is always the case in marches, notes should be played with deliberate attack, and on the short side (unless otherwise indicated.) Dynamics should be exaggerated, taking care to not overblow or let tone quality suffer in extreme loud or extreme soft areas. This will make loud passages sound more impressive by contrast to the softer ones. Several accents have been added in the cymbals and bass drum to underscore melodic or harmonic activity.

I hope you enjoy rehearsing and performing American Legion March.

About the Arranger

Andrew Glover's diverse career in music has included successful tenures as educator, composer/arranger, performer, conductor, clinician, and publisher. He joined the staff of the C. L. Barnhouse Company in 1998, and as Executive Vice President is in charge of music production, serves as staff composer-arranger and editor, and manages the business as Chief Operating Officer. A native of the St. Louis area, he was educated in the public schools of Webster Groves, where he was a student of Walter Lathen, Tony Carosello, and Ed Carson. He received a Bachelor of Music Education degree from Central Methodist University, where he studied with Keith House, Ron Anson, and Ronald Shroyer, and did graduate work at Southeast Missouri State University.

As a sophomore in high school, Glover's first band arrangement was performed by the school's wind ensemble, and thus began a multi-decade career in composition and arranging. His band works number over 200, many published by Barnhouse, and have been performed, recorded, and broadcast by bands worldwide.

In college, Glover won a position in the Detroit Concert Band, conducted by Leonard B. Smith, and performed for four seasons on euphonium. He participated in numerous recording sessions with the DCB, including ten phonograph records of "Gems of the Concert Band" and a documentary film soundtrack. For many years he also performed as a soloist and guest artist.

Glover taught briefly in the public schools of Webster Groves, and served for seven years as Director of Bands at Rosary High School in St. Louis. As a guest conductor, clinician, soloist, and speaker he has appeared in over 35 states. He also worked in the private sector for over a decade in association management.

An enthusiast of, and advocate for classic concert band music and history, Glover is not only involved in new music production at Barnhouse, but also oversees the company's 130+ year archive of publications and historical memorabilia, and is frequently involved in band history research projects. He is a member of ASCAP; Association of Concert Bands, where he serves on the advisory council; and is Vice President of Windjammers Unlimited. In May 2013 he received the Distinguished Alumni award from Central Methodist University.
